

August 20, 2020 ~ 12:00 – 1:30 PT

A Sense of Place: Indigenous Perspectives on Earth and Sky
Our August Webinar Series Presentation

Featuring Dr. Robin Wall Kimmerer

The Fortress, the River, and the Garden: A Model for Integration of Science and Indigenous Knowledge

Dr. Kimmerer is the author of Braiding Sweetgrass: Indigenous Wisdom, Scientific Knowledge, and the Teachings of Plants. She continues her work as SUNY Distinguished Teaching Professor at SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry.

to register ~

<https://bit.ly/3fynzuH>

A Sense of Place Webinar Series

The webinar series A Sense of Place: Indigenous Perspectives on Earth and Sky is a team effort of the Indigenous Education Institute, San Juan Islands National Monument, San Juan Island National Historical Park, and BLM Collaborative Action and Dispute Resolution.

This webinar addresses DOI Secretarial priorities including NEPA Streamlining, Shared Conservation Stewardship and Ensuring that Tribal Sovereignty means something.

A recording of all webinars produced in this series will be available at <http://indigenouseducation.org/multimedia/>